GUIDE FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

www.upm.es

It is our firm intent at the Universidad Politécnica de Madrid (UPM) to be a university with a strong international outlook. We have taken this idea as a challenge and have, for many years, encouraged student exchanges at both graduate and postgraduate level.

International students are therefore particularly welcome at the UPM, regardless of where they are from and whether they are undergraduate or graduate students. We have set up many exchange programmes that the UPM upholds and promotes with other universities around the world. Through these exchanges, international students gain access to our education system and culture and enjoy a range of experiences they would undoubtedly miss out on without the opportunity to participate in a student exchange programme.

Since internationalisation is about more than just student exchange, we offer international degrees for undergraduate and postgraduate students. These initiatives are run with our strategic international partners, training professionals for this constantly changing global environment.

We hope that the students who spend time at our university will be our best ambassadors and that their comments and suggestions will help us to provide the welcome and assistance we trust you will find if you do decide to study at the UPM.

This guide has been prepared to help you during your stay with us. It is intended to give you practical, useful information about our city and our university and to provide you with all the help you need to adapt to your new environment.

1. INTRODUCTION

1.1. THE UNIVERSITY

Most Universidad Politécnica de Madrid schools and faculties have a long and impressive history. Some began their teaching activity during the reign of Carlos III and are nearly 200 years old. It is therefore no exaggeration to say that a large part of the history of Spanish technology over the last 150 years has been written by the UPM's schools of architecture and engineering. And again most of the major figures in Spanish university lecturing and research have passed through our lecture halls as either students or lecturers or both. The Universidad Politécnica de Madrid was established as such in 1971 with the merger of all the higher technical schools that had previously formed the Higher Technical Institute. The university schools joined in 1972.

The UPM now has 19 schools, and 9 research centres and institutes, and 205 departments.

1.2. SHORT DESCRIPTION OF THE UPM

The Universidad Politécnica de Madrid is a leading university in architecture and engineering education in Spain. It is internationally renowned for the quality of its courses and the research undertaken at its schools, departments and institutes. The degree programmes that it offers cover all areas of architecture and engineering in today's society, on which technological advances have a decisive impact and for which scientists and engineers are taking on more and more responsibility. To guarantee the training of future generations, the Universidad Politécnica de Madrid combines the four main roles of a modern higher education institution as an exponent of the global service that a university should offer in our society: teaching, knowledge generation, knowledge transfer to sectors of production and administration, and the popularisation of science and technology.

The Universidad Politécnica de Madrid is classed as an International Campus of Excellence. The Spanish Ministry of Education awarded this distinction to nine Spanish universities. This is confirmation of the UPM's quality in terms of teaching, research, and knowledge transfer to the community.

The UPM has over 35,000 students at present, enrolled in undergraduate, master's and doctorate programmes.

As a university with an international outlook, the UPM attaches great importance to international education. It has signed more than 900 agreements with European universities in respect of the courses it offers under the Erasmus programme. It also has understandings with Latin American universities under the Magalhaes programme and agreements with the USA, Russia and China, among others.

Every academic year more than 1000 students go on an Erasmus exchange to a European university and approximately 700 international students come to the UPM under this programme.

We also send about 20 students to non-European countries and host about 70 incoming students under the Erasmus+ programme. UPM regularly hosts about 70 students from Chinese universities and sends about 35 UPM students to China as part of the UPM's Spanish-Chinese Campus, funded by CSC scholarships or UPM grants.

2. STRUCTURE OF UNIVERSITY COURSES

The Spanish university system is part of the European Higher Education Area (EHEA).

International students who would like to spend time at our university may design their learning agreement by selecting subjects from any of the currently valid curriculums. They must ensure that the topics or subjects they have chosen will actually be taught as part of the current curriculum of a degree course.

Bachelor's degrees:

Bachelor's degree programmes are designed to prepare students to undertake professional activities. Curriculums leading to a bachelor's degree have 240 credits to be earned over four years. These courses will conclude with the preparation and public defence of a final-year project worth from six to 30 ECTS credits.

Master's degrees:

Master's degree programmes are designed to prepare graduates for advanced professional activities and target academic and professional specialisation and research. Curriculums leading to a master's degree will comprise from 60 to 120 ECTS credits divided over one or two years. Programmes conclude with the preparation and public defence of a master's final project worth from six to 30 ECTS credits.

Doctoral degrees:

Doctoral programmes are designed to provide advanced training for students in research techniques. Doctoral programmes are research degrees and their duration is not determined by credits. They take between three and five years depending on whether the student enrolls on a full-time or part-time basis.

3. THE SPANISH CREDIT AND GRADING SYSTEM: EUROPEAN CREDITS

Universidad Politécnica de Madrid curriculums are adapted to the European Higher Education Area (EHEA) and use European Credits Transfer System (ECTS) credits. ECTS credits are the standard adopted by all universities in the EHEA as a way to ensure academic recognition of courses studied abroad. They improve the quality of education and encourage student mobility among universities, as they measure higher education in Europe using common criteria.

The ECTS measures the total student workload required to pass a subject: lectures, practicals, self-study, assignments, etc. One ECTS credit is equivalent to a student workload of 25 to 30 hours.

The ECTS establishes a workload of 60 credits for a full-time student in one academic year. Therefore, a semester is equivalent to 30 credits. The minimum and the maximum number of hours per credit is 25 and 30, respectively.

The European Commission has published a user guide for the ECTS that is available at the following link:

https://ec.europa.eu/assets/eac/education/ects/users-guide/index\_en.htm

Grading System

The Spanish grading system is a decimal system from 0 to 10. These grades are accompanied on the transcript by a non-numerical grade. A minimum grade of 5 is required to pass a subject. Students are required to pass a final written or oral exam in order to pass most subjects.

Students who fail an end-of-semester exam will have the chance to retake the exam in the July exam sessions.

0 – 4.9: Suspenso (SS) – Fail

5.0 – 6.9: Aprobado (AP) – Pass

7.0 – 8.9: Notable (NT) – Very Good

9.0 – 10: Sobresaliente (SB) – Excellent

A distinction of Matrícula de Honor (with honours) may be awarded to the best students who have attained the grade of Sobresaliente (Excellent). Students are entitled to enrol free of charge in one subject in the following academic year for every Matrícula de Honor distinction that they attain.

Under the ECTS credit system, a student's outcomes are accredited by a grade. In the EHEA, it is good practice to include a reference to the ECTS, where students are graded on a statistical basis UPM issues an academic transcript stating ECTS grades.

ECTS Grading Scale

Grade	Cumulative %	Definition
A	10	Outstanding performance without errors
B	35	Above the average standard but with minor errors
C	65	Generally sound work with some errors
D	90	Fair but with significant shortcomings
E	~100	Performance meets the minimum criteria
FX	Fail	Some more work required before the credit can be awarded
F	Fail	Considerable further work is required

4. COURSES AND DEGREE PROGRAMMES

The Universidad Politécnica de Madrid offers 52 bachelor's degrees, 67 official master's degrees and 45 doctoral programmes adapted to the EHEA. UPM offers 35 internationally accredited degree programmes (EUR-ACE, EURO-INF, ABET, NAAB)

Double Degrees

The Universidad Politécnica de Madrid offers students the opportunity to study for an international degree through double degree agreements. Double degrees involve students working for two different university degrees in parallel and provide better preparation for graduates starting out in their professional life. On completing their studies, graduates will be awarded the degree from the UPM in addition to the degree from the overseas university at which they completed the exchange of their choice. The UPM currently has 119 specific double degree agreements (80 for bachelor's and 39 for master's programmes) with centres of excellence at various European universities, open to students from the UPM and students from universities outside of Spain with which agreements have been signed.

6. INTERNATIONAL EXCHANGE PROGRAMMES

The Vice Rector's Office for Academic Strategy and Internationalisation (Vicerrectorado de Estrategia Académica e Internacionalización) promotes and administers the international exchange programmes.

The objective of this office is to encourage UPM students to participate in mobility programmes and to help incoming exchange students with integration.

6.1. ERASMUS+

Erasmus+ is the EU's programme to support education, training, youth and sport in Europe. The Erasmus+ programme is the main international mobility programme at the UPM. More than 1000 students from our university take part in the programme, and we receive about 900 incoming students every year.

The UPM has signed a total of 932 bilateral agreements for the Erasmus programme with 353 universities, including 93 double degrees.

The Vice Rector for Academic Strategy and Internationalisation is responsible for administering and signing bilateral agreements with universities under the Erasmus programme managed by the Associate Vice Rector for Internationalisation Services and EU Programmes.

6.1.1. PROCEDURES FOR COMPLETION BEFORE ARRIVAL ON EXCHANGE

Students who wish to do an Erasmus exchange at the Universidad Politécnica de Madrid first need to contact the International Relations Office and the Erasmus coordinator at their home school or university for information about the procedures required in order to complete part of their degree programme at our university through the Erasmus programme.

Before you can apply, a bilateral agreement must have been signed between your home university and your host university.

Once you have been selected as an Erasmus student by your home university for a stay at the Universidad Politécnica de Madrid, you will need to send the completed original of the application form to the tutor or coordinator responsible for Erasmus exchanges at the UPM school where you wish to study, accompanied by the following documents:

- Credentials or certificate from your school to show that you have been selected as an Erasmus student.
- The learning agreement, signed by you and the Erasmus coordinator at your home university.
- Certificate showing that you have sufficient language proficiency.
- Any other document that may be required by the school for admission: transcript of records, language proficiency, interview, a report on your studies or the topic of your final-year project, etc.

Deadline for receipt of applications:

- 1 June for students wishing to study during a full academic year or in the first semester.
- 1 December for students arriving for the second semester.

If everything is in order, the tutor, coordinator or lecturer responsible for exchanges at the UPM school will send a letter of acceptance to either the student or the tutor, specifying which courses the student may take, as well as the signed learning agreement. Through these links, you will find information on the curriculum of each school, as well as accredited bachelor's and master's courses and accredited doctorate programmes.

For all other information or any changes that may be made to your exchange programme, see the UPM Erasmus programme web page.

6.1.2. PROCEDURES FOR COMPLETION DURING YOUR EXCHANGE AT THE UPM

6.1.2.1. REGISTRATION

It is a good idea to arrive at least 10 days before lectures start so you can look for accommodation and complete the required academic procedures.

Once you are in Madrid, you will need to go to the International Office at the UPM school where you are to study to register as an Erasmus student and apply for your UPM student ID card.

On arrival, you will be required to show:

Union student ID card

- Letter of acceptance from the UPM school
- The learning agreement, signed by you and the Erasmus coordinator of your home university, if you did not send it before your arrival
- Two original passport-size photos.

At the International Office, you will also be given instructions on the enrolment procedure and how to organise your timetable. You will be given your enrolment certificate, which your home university will need to process your Erasmus exchange.

To ensure your health cover in Spain, you will need to bring with you a European Health Insurance Card or private health insurance valid for the entire time of your stay at the UPM if this is not covered by your European Health Insurance Card.

Most UPM schools hold New Student Orientation during the first week of September.

6.1.2.2. ENROLMENT

Before enrolling it is a good idea to ask the Erasmus coordinator at the UPM for advice about the subjects shown on your learning agreement. You can then enrol with the help of the office responsible for the Erasmus programme at your host school.

To process your enrolment you will need to attach the completed learning agreement showing the subjects that you intend to take. The learning agreement must be signed and stamped by the coordinators of your home and host universities (you may enrol only in the subjects listed on your learning agreement), and your enrolment must include a photocopy of your European Health Insurance Card or private medical insurance providing health cover in Spain. You should enrol at the administrative office of the school where you are to study.

Enrolment periods may vary from school to school. Enquire at your host school. The following periods are given as a guideline:

- Enrolment period: second half of July
- Unenrollment period: end of January
- Extended enrollment (FYP, practicum, English language certification): early February.

6.1.3. PROCEDURES FOR COMPLETION AT THE END OF YOUR EXCHANGE

When you finish your stay, you will need to request the following documents from the Erasmus coordinator of the UPM school where you have studied:

- Certificate of attendance showing the period of time that you have spent at the UPM
- Transcript of records.

You will need to submit the originals of these documents at your home university or school.

If your transcript of records is not available when you leave, the Erasmus office at your host school will forward it to your home university or school.

6.2. ERASMUS HIGHER EDUCATION STUDENT AND STAFF MOBILITY BETWEEN PROGRAMME AND PARTNER COUNTRIES (KA107)

Erasmus+ also funds academic and youth mobility and cooperation between Europe and other regions in the world. Erasmus+ supports activities that are closely matched with the EU's priorities for cooperation policy with partner countries and regions. UPM participates in this programme and sends and receives about 35 and 80 students, respectively, to and from countries in Africa, Asia, Europe and Latin America. A list of countries with which UPM now has bilateral agreements is available at: <https://drive.upm.es/index.php/s/zi3fmVWKghUoeqd>.

6.2.3. PROCEDURES FOR COMPLETION AT THE END OF YOUR EXCHANGE AT UPM

At the end of their stay, students collect the certificate of departure from the Erasmus+ KA107 Office. The School where they have carried out their mobility will issue a transcript of records or research activities for exchange students. You will need to submit the originals of these documents at your home university or school. If your transcript of records is not available when you leave, the International Office at your host school will forward it to your home university or school.

Within forty-five days after the end of their mobility, students have to complete a recognition report that will be emailed to them directly by EU.

6.3. ATHENS PROGRAMME

The ATHENS network is made up of a total of 15 European higher education institutions (one per country). The UPM is the Spanish university in the network. Within the framework of the ATHENS programme, the participating universities organize week-long courses (twice a year: March and November) in which students from all the network universities participate.

ATHENS courses consist of 30 hours (classes, laboratory, technical visits, practice, etc.) distributed in a week of classes. The subject of the course is chosen by the teacher, as are the (general or specialized) difficulty level, the language in which the course is taught (preferably English), the timetable and the prerequisites for participation by students. Courses can be taught by one or more teachers.

8. UPM SERVICES

8.1. ACCOMMODATION

The best way to find accommodation is to check out the accommodation options and book temporary accommodation in Madrid before you arrive. Once you are in Madrid, you will be able to look for accommodation that is better suited to your needs.

If you do not find accommodation before you arrive, you should arrange to be in Madrid 10 to 15 days before lectures start. This will give you time to find a place to stay.

The cost of accommodation depends very much on the area you choose to live in.

If your budget is tight, you should look further outside the city centre. If you prefer the city centre (Gran Vía, Bilbao, Sol, Tribunal or La Latina), then you should be prepared to pay more. Average rental prices in Madrid are:

- A room in a shared apartment from €300 per month.
- A studio from €550 per month.
- An apartment for two starting from €800 per month.

- A room in a student residence from €860 per month.

Bear in mind that your rent may not include bills (electricity, water, cleaning, WiFi, gas, taxes). Also take into account that the huge majority of landlords will ask you for a deposit at check-in usually equivalent to one month's rent. This deposit will be refunded to you at the end of your stay provided you leave the accommodation in good condition.

This means that you will have to pay the first month's rent plus the deposit.

8.2. SPANISH LANGUAGE COURSES

The UPM Language Centre, run by the UPM's Vice Rectorate for Academic Strategy and Internationalisation, has developed a flexible offer of Spanish language courses adapted to the special demands of its higher education community.

The Spanish Language and Culture courses aim to provide students with the necessary Spanish language communication skills and strategies for everyday situations in both academic (formal) and sociocultural (informal) settings, as well as to prompt and encourage interest in and curiosity about Spanish culture, traditions and customs. The UPM Language Centre offers courses for proficiency levels A1/B2 according to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) and personalized solutions for students of other levels, as well as tailor-made courses for institutions.

Every year international students attend the following courses:

- Pre-semester courses (Aug/Sept and Jan/Feb) - 50-hour intensive Spanish language and culture courses, including a 20-hour cultural programme covering three weeks
- Semester-long courses (Sept/Dec and Feb/May) - 40-hour fall and spring semester courses
- Summer courses (July) - 100-hour intensive course, including face-to-face classes and cultural activities over a four-week period.

The UPM is also an official DELE and SIELE examination centre. DELE and SIELE are Spanish language proficiency certificates awarded by the Cervantes Institute on behalf of the Spanish Ministry of Education, Culture and Sports.

8.3. MENTOR PROGRAMME

The aim of the UPM mentoring project is to set up a guidance and assistance programme for first-year and international students. Senior students are responsible for mentoring under the supervision of lecturers.

The International Office at the school where you are studying will tell you if the mentor programme is running and put you in touch with mentors who can help you adapt to life at the UPM.

The main aim of the mentor programme is to set up mechanisms to help new students (first-year and international students) with their academic and social integration at the university and ensure that they continue and succeed in higher education.

This is achieved through:

1. Academic guidance: providing mentored students with the help they need to cope with the subjects that they are studying from the viewpoint of the mentor as a former student of these subjects.
2. Social guidance: helping new students adapt to the university with particular attention to diversity.
3. Administrative guidance: providing new students with guidance for general administrative procedures.

8.4. ASSISTANCE FOR THE DISABLED

The Vice-Rectorate for Student Affairs has a Disabled Care Unit to assist disabled students with everything they need, providing as much help as possible so they are able to study.

8.5. STUDENT CLUBS

Clubs play a major role at the UPM. There are currently 195 clubs in operation, including activities ranging from all kinds of cultural pursuits such as cinema, theatre, tunas (traditional student musical groups) and photography to professionally-oriented clubs for exchange and research. If you would like to join a club or take part in club activities, enquire at your school or make an appointment to see the Deputy Director of University Extension, the Student Council at your School, or the Student Services and University Extension Office.

e-mail: extension.universitaria@upm.es

Further information: <http://www.upm.es/Estudiantes/Asociaciones>

8.6. CULTURAL ACTIVITIES

The Universidad Politécnica de Madrid organises numerous reasonably priced cultural activities for all UPM students, including exchange students.

The Cultural Service (Aula de Cultura) organises courses of all kinds: diction and public speaking, Latin dancing, drawing and painting, creative writing, ukele and guitar playing and so on. Courses are held twice during the academic year from October to December and from March to June.

Every year the UPM holds its highly successful theatre festival, when the university's 11 theatre groups put on more than 20 plays, including comedy, drama, theatre of the absurd and musicals. Performances are attended by more than 6500 spectators, and all interested students may take part.

Another annual event is the UPM Cinema Showcase (Jornadas de Cine), which has a different theme every year: gender equality, crime in cinema, etc. Students who attend the showcase are awarded ECTS credits.

International students who would like to take part in any of these activities should enquire at the Student Services and University Extension Office:

This means that users from any school can connect to the network in the specified areas, regardless of the school at which they are studying.

The UPM's Wi-Fi network is part of the worldwide eduroam service. Students who have eduroam installed in their devices will have Wi-Fi access directly. Students who do not have eduroam access will be able to use our network as soon as they have a UPM student email account.

9. PRACTICAL INFORMATION

9.1. MADRID

Madrid, the capital of Spain and of the Community of Madrid, is in the geographical centre of the country. With a population of about 6.5 million in the metropolitan area, it is considered to be Spain's largest city and the third largest urban area in the European Union. As the capital of the country, Madrid is the seat of the country's government and parliament and accommodates the main departments of the central public administration. It is also the official place of residence of the Spanish royal family.

In terms of the economy, Madrid is noted for being a major financial and industrial centre, home to the head offices of numerous Spanish companies and several of the world's largest corporations. Madrid is known for its high level of cultural and artistic activity. Its internationally renowned museums include the Prado Art Museum, the Thyssen Bornemisza Art Museum and the Queen Sofia National Art Museum.

Madrid is now a multicultural city that welcomes tourists, students and visitors of all nationalities who are interested in learning about the history, customs and traditions of the Spanish capital.

9.2. ENTRY INTO SPAIN

- Citizens of the European Union, Norway, Iceland, Liechtenstein and Switzerland
Citizens from any State of the European Union, Switzerland, Norway, Iceland and Liechtenstein only need a valid national identity document or passport.
Citizens from the United Kingdom and Ireland will require a passport since their countries are not members of the Schengen Area.

Further information: <http://www.exteriores.gob.es/Portal/en/ServiciosAlCiudadano/InformacionParaExtranjeros/Paginas/Inicio.aspx>

9.3. HEALTH INSURANCE

State-provided healthcare

If you are from a country within the European Union, all you need to do is apply for a European Health Insurance Card in your own country. This will allow you to use state-provided healthcare during your stay in Spain.

Once you are in Madrid, you will need to find out which is your designated health centre. This will depend on where you live in the Community of Madrid. For information about your designated health centre or any other aspect of the state-provided healthcare in Spain visit the following web page:

<http://www.comunidad.madrid/servicios/salud/buscador-centros-sanitarios>

If you are from outside the European Union but your country has signed a healthcare agreement with Spain, you will need to enquire about the necessary procedures in your own country.

To receive health care in Madrid, you will be required to show your European Health Insurance Card or a current replacement certificate at your designated health centre in the area where you live. You will be treated by the emergency service or, if necessary, you will receive ongoing care (primary health care or specialised care).

In addition to the European Health Insurance Card or replacement certificate, students who have a chronic disease and are already receiving ongoing health care must provide an E112 or S2 from their country of origin.

Further information: https://europa.eu/youreurope/citizens/health/unplanned-health-care/temporary-stays/index\_en.htm

Private health insurance

If your country does not have a social security system and has not signed a healthcare agreement with Spain, you will need to take out private health insurance. Your policy must in all cases provide full health cover for the entire duration of your stay at the UPM. You may take out a policy in your country of origin or when you arrive in Spain.

9.4. INTERNATIONAL MOBILITY STUDENT INSURANCE

All students, irrespective of their country of origin, are required to take out insurance especially designed for international mobility students to cover risks not covered by the EHIC like rescue and repatriation.

The UPM has an agreement with the On-Campus insurance company, for which international students are eligible. This policy includes accident insurance, healthcare insurance, travel insurance, private liability, etc.

Tel: +34 91 3018500

Travel times to Madrid: From Barcelona - 6 hours 30 minutes; from Seville - 5 hours 15 minutes; from Lisbon - 5 hours 40 minutes.

Expressways (autovías) are labelled with the letter A; motorways (autopistas) are labelled with the letters AP; national roads with more than one carriageway between cities and towns are labelled with the letter N; and the Madrid ring roads are labelled by the letter M. Expressways, motorways and the main national roads are labelled by a letter followed by either one, two or three digits. Many of the motorways are toll roads.

Driving in Spain is on the right and no - one under the age of 18 may hire or drive a vehicle of more than 75 cc. Seatbelts must be used in all seats of any type of vehicle in which they are fitted. The use of helmets is compulsory on motorcycles. The speed limits for cars and motorcycles are 120 km/h on expressways, 100 km/h on dual carriageways, 90 km/h on roads outside built-up areas, 50 km/h in cities or towns and 20 km/h in residential areas. The use of mobile telephones or any other system or method of communication while driving is prohibited. A points system operates in Spain, which awards an initial credit of 12 points to all drivers. Points are lost for certain driving offences.

Foreign visitors require a driving licence that is valid for Spain. Driving licences from all European Union countries are accepted, although citizens of countries such as the USA, Canada and Australia must obtain an international licence. Every car on the road in Spain is required by law to have civil liability insurance that covers all possible third party damage in the case of accident and must also carry documentation at all times to prove it is insured. A Green Card (Tarjeta Verde) is also recommended, although this is only compulsory for drivers from countries outside the European Union.

Drivers in difficulty can contact Roadside Assistance (Ayuda en Carretera), a service operated by the Civil Guard, from the SOS phones located along the roadsides.

A puente (bridge) is sometimes made between weekends and holidays that fall on Tuesday or Thursday. The puente is equivalent to a long weekend. The public holidays observed in the city of Madrid are shown in the table below.
